

The New York World says:—"The Emperor Napoleon has taken no measures in Mexico to which the governments of England and Spain are not substantially bound by the spirit of the original tripartite alliance to afford at least a moral acquiescence, and in so far, a moral support. Assured of this, and satisfied that upon the most important European questions now pending before his government or held by him in abeyance his European alliances are too dexterously combined and interwoven to be broken up, Napoleon will hardly permit his American policy, be it what it may, to be modified by any representations which Mr. Seward is at all likely to make to him."

There is a great deal of uneasiness felt in Costa Rica on account of the action of the President in dissolving the Congress and calling for a new election of representatives. He charges that Congress has passed laws in conflict with other branches of the government, assuming powers not delegated to it by the constitution. The President is supported by the majority of the people, and will no doubt be able to sustain himself in the position he has taken.

A dispatch from Fort Gibson says that at a recent election held in the Cherokee Nation, the Hon. John Ross was re-elected principal chief for the term of four years, and Lewis Downing, Lieutenant Colonel of the Third Cherokee Indian Regiment, United States, was elected second chief for the same period.

The U. S. Navy Department has received information of the killing, at Natchez, on the 23d ultimo, of Acting Masner R. A. Turner, commanding steamer Curley, by Major McKee, provost marshal of that city. A commission to investigate the matter relieved the marshal of all the blame.

The New York State militia have been dismissed, the police authorities deeming their service to protect public property no longer necessary.

From the list of claimants for exemption before the several Boards of Enrollment, in New York about one in forty is held to service.

Arrivals from the army of the Potomac represent "everything quiet, beyond the daily exception of deserters from the Confederate army, and the frequent arrests of citizens along the line who are suspected of giving information and aid to the enemy. There is no immediate prospect of movements by either army. Teams are constantly laden with supplies for the soldiers, and when they are sent from Washington a cavalry escort has to accompany them, lest they should be captured by the busy guerrillas who are constantly active to intercept these vehicles, usually rich with the substantial goods required in camp."

The Brownsville (Texas) Flag of a late date says that "it is asserted very positively that President Juarez has already rented quarters in Brownsville, and that the Mexican President expects soon to turn up in this section of country. The house hired by the coming runaway is the same lately occupied by another refugee Mexican President, who has but lately left Brownsville." This would seem to give some weight to the statements now going the rounds of the newspapers that there was a probability of a Federal advance in that direction. The relations of Juarez with Minister Corwin, are said to have formerly been of a friendly character.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Despatches to the Philadelphia Inquirer.]

WASHINGTON, September 7, 1863.—A scouting party of the Sixth Ohio Cavalry, on Friday, while returning from a reconnaissance across the Rappahannock, fell into an ambuscade, when some thirty were killed, wounded or captured.

On Sunday, owing to the carelessness of a vidette, who left his station, the Confederates made a dash on the lines, wounding and capturing five men, a number of horses and mules and killing Lieutenant Lyon, of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry.

The loan of fifty millions asked for by Secretary Chase, of the associated banks, is intended to pay suspended claims against the Treasury, which have accumulated during the last six weeks. These claims amount to thirty millions, and the balance of the loan will be used to carry on the Government until the new Treasury notes are ready for issue. The public debt has not increased since the last published statement beyond the amount of the Five-twenty bonds issued.

The receipts into the Treasury from taxes on the 3d of September were the largest ever reported in one day from these sources. They were as follows;—On account of the internal revenue, $297,549.02; on account of customs, in United States notes, $58,770.40; on account of customs, in coin, $351,107.49. Total, $707,426.91.

A skirmish took place at Aldie, between Moseby's guerrillas and the First Indiana Cavalry, in which the Confederates were defeated and eight prisoners taken.

It is reported that Brig. Gen. Taylor, Commissary of Subsistence has been relieved, and it is confidently asserted to-day, that Brigadier Generals Meigs and Ripley have been relieved.

The Court of Inquiry in General Milroy's case was concluded to-day. The Hon. F. P. Stanton, counsel for Gen. Milroy, has prepared a review of the case to be submitted to the President. It is believed that General Milroy will be acquitted. Pursuant to the orders organizing the Court, the proceedings will be forwarded to Headquarters without any opinion expressed upon the merits of the case.
